Allies And Russia.

Paris, July 10.—M. Koresky spoke yesterday at a meeting in Paris. Numerous members of Parliament attended. He recommended intervention of the Allies to pursue on Russian territory the common struggle against the Central Powers and said that he came not as a member of any party but as a citizen anxious to discuss the best means of restoring his country from its present condition.

London, July 12.—The correspondent of the daily Express at Stockholm says that in consequence of the landing of Allied troops on the Murman coast, the Russian War Commissary has ordered hurried preparations for war in this region. The military censorship has been restored. Three hundred Serbian and Italian officers have been arrested at Archangel by order of M. Lenin. According to a description received here of the Soviet Congress in Moscow, two days before Count Mirbach was killed, the representatives of the Entente and also Count Mirbach and the personnel of the German Legation were present.

The Ukraine's Breakaway. There were violent scenes, the Social Revolutionaries stigmatising the Bolsheviks as "hangmen" and "Mirbach's lackeys," and applauding the appearance of the Ukraine representative Alexandroff, for assisting to enable the Ukraine to throw off the yoke of the Brest-Litovsk peace. Alexandroff declared that the Germans in the Ukraine would be wiped out. They had already paid a thousand lives for their tyranny. Alexandroff and Kamkoff denounced the Bolsheviks for tolerating the presence of Count Mirbach in Moscow, and shouts of "Down with Mirbach," and "Throw the robber out!"

Petrograd.—The newspaper Mash-vick reports that the Germans are pouring troops into the Ukraine, where there are now thirty-five divisions.

Regarding the recent reports of doings on the Murman coast, it can now be stated that the Allies are taking measures to protect that coast in co-operation with the local population, who are determined to resist the German advance. The Allied forces were sent upon the request of the Russians themselves.

Situation in Siberia. It is understood that the situation in Siberia is distinctly favourable to the Allies. Tokyo, July 2.—The report from Washington that Japan has declined the request of the Entente to intervene in Siberia is authoritatively declared to be untrue. Japan's attitude is unchanged. America's reply on the subject is still awaited.

Unofficial opinion is Japan is almost unanimous in the feeling that the despatch of troops to Siberia is at present unnecessary.

Paris, July 12.—Matin's Stockholm correspondent says that M. Tchernoef, leader of the Social Revolutionaries, is at the head of numerous armed bands, chiefly peasants, which are marching on Moscow and have already reached the environs.

The Bolshevik Government alleges that Moravieff, commander-in-chief on the Tsecho Slovak front, has committed suicide.

Peking, July 11.—The Czech-Slovaks have overthrown the Bolsheviks in the whole region from Tobolsk to Semipalatinsk and Krasnovsk to Chilibabinsk. The correspondent confirms that the Bolsheviks are also overthrown at Irkutsk.

Petrograd's Plight. London, July 12.—Wireless Russian Official: Owing to food shortage, cholera is increasing in Petrograd. There are many hundreds of victims daily and it is difficult to carry on till harvest. Councils of the corn provinces are urged to speed up the despatch of food to Petrograd.

The Lemberger Tageblatt, in view of the anti-Jewish attitude of the Austrian Government urges Austrian Jews to abandon neutrality and go over to the Entente, which supports Jewish interests.

Dispensable Occupations.

The Government of India in a letter to the provincial governments on the need for Europeans for the Indian Reserve of Officers, recommends Europeans of military age in the following occupations to be replaced by women, or the trades dropped. Actors, musicians, shop assistants, hair dressers, tailors, drapers, furniture makers, jewellers, photographers, book-sellers, music sellers, art dealers and carpet dealers and many other occupations of a like nature.

These do not perhaps touch the Straits but, the Government of India believe that, apart from the Imperial and Provincial services which have already contributed so largely to the increase in the Indian Army Reserve of Officers, there are still many Europeans of military age in India employed in commercial firms and other business concerns, or earning their living as journalists, brokers, lawyers, etc., occupations which cannot be classed as essential war industries. Many gentlemen of these classes would be suitable for service as officers or subordinates in either the combatant branches of the Indian Army."

British Legation Telegrams.

(British Legation telegrams are not to be regarded as official communications from His Britannic Majesty's Representative, unless they are marked "official.")

A New Type of Air-Ship.

Figures from official sources show that during the year ended 30/6 British air forces on the western front alone accounted for three thousand eight hundred and fifty-six enemy machines, British machines missing being one thousand one hundred and eighty-six. During the present year on the fronts in Italy, Salonika, Egypt and Palestine two hundred and forty-six enemy machines were accounted for while twenty-seven British machines were missing. It is authoritatively stated that the British air force will soon have great quantities of a new type of machine on the battle fronts from which great results have already been obtained. The machine carries a pilot and observer and great weight of bombs, also machine guns and other equipment to a height of over twenty thousand feet in an extraordinary short time. It is able to accomplish in two hours bombing raids which with another type of machine would perhaps need a whole day's preparation.

The superiority of this new type of aircraft is established by the failure of the Germans to bring down a single one despite their utmost efforts.

Ministerial Changes.

Ministerial changes are Sir Worthington Evans to be Minister of Blockade succeeding Lord Robert Cecil who becomes Assistant Foreign Secretary. General Seely, Parliamentary Under Secretary of the Ministry of Munitions, Major Waldorf Astor Parliamentary Secretary of the Food Ministry.

Australia's Policy.

Mr. Hughes, Australian Premier, speaking in London on the Pacific question said that the policy of Australia was that it could not and dare not assent to the Islands formerly owned by Germany being handed back after the war. Australia stood committed to a policy of Australian Monroe doctrine in the southern Pacific.

War Prisoners.

The British and German delegates at the Hague have reached a provisional agreement whereby war prisoners with eighteen months captivity shall be exchanged.

Wheat Reserves.

Mr. Clynes Food Controller, on July 18th stated that the wheat reserves of the country have been made absolutely safe. Sometime ago seventy per cent of the wheat consumed was imported and thirty per cent home fed.

Government is going to reverse these proportions.

The American Forces.

It is officially stated that during the month of April, May and June six hundred and thirty-seven thousand, nine hundred and twenty-nine American troops were carried to Europe, three hundred and fifty-six coming in British ships.

Revival of Gold Mohur.

American Silver Still Pouring into India.

An ordinance was to have been promulgated at Simla on June 14 empowering the Government of India to coin gold mohurs or fifteen-rupee gold pieces. (The gold mohur was current coin of the realm in India during the "pagoda" times of the East India Company and was worth Rs. 16). The weight, fineness, and dimensions of the new coin will correspond to that of the sovereign and it will be legal tender at Rs. 15 per gold mohur. The coin will bear on its obverse the head of His Majesty as in the case of the present rupee coinage, and on the reverse an ornamental border, the words "five rupees" and the year of coinage. As the public are aware a branch of the royal mint has been established at Bombay for the coinage of sovereigns. There have, however, been delays owing to the non-arrival of the necessary dies and other causes and a few weeks will probably still elapse before it is possible to commence the coinage of sovereigns. In the interval it has become desirable in order to supplement the rupee stocks of the Government of India to coin a portion of the large gold holding in the paper currency reserve in so far as this is at present in the form of gold bullion or foreign coin. The present intention is to use these new gold coins in conjunction with currency notes to enable the wheat commissioner to carry out his programme of purchases of wheat in the Punjab.

As the public are aware the Government of India are now receiving large consignments of silver from America. The mints are coining into rupees as rapidly as possible, while in addition to the shipments already received further shipments which will be sufficient to coin into twelve crores of rupees are already on their way and are expected very shortly, and these will be followed by further large consignments. Meanwhile the Government of India have large disbursements to make in connection with the purchase of wheat and otherwise and they consider that it will be expedient to provide for a portion of these payments being made in gold in order to enable them more rapidly to replenish their stocks from the new coinage which the mints are now carrying out.

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR FAMILY.

When you fail to provide your family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy at this season of the year, you are neglecting them, as bowel complaint is sure to be prevalent, and it is too dangerous a malady to be trifled with. This is especially true if there are children in the family. A dose or two of this remedy will place the trouble within control and perhaps save a life, or at least a doctor's bill. The Motor Meet

To Celebrate the Anniversary of Siam Entering the War.

Thousands of people gathered round the Promenade Ground yesterday to witness the motor races. The crowds began pouring in from early morning and by 2 p.m., the time appointed for commencing the races, people were standing five and six deep on both sides of the road. It was a broiling hot day, but the tamarind trees round the course afforded a welcome protection from the sun. Thanks to the forethought of those in charge of the arrangements the course was in excellent condition and there were no accidents of a serious nature, contrary to the fears of a great many people. The only accident happened in the last race on the programme when the rider of a motor cycle came off his machine and sustained some injuries to his knees and hands.

His Majesty the King arrived after 3 p.m. and witnessed the races from the special stand erected for His Majesty by the side of the office of the Kron Ayakarn.

At the conclusion of the races His Majesty was graciously pleased to draw the winning numbers of the lottery and these were exhibited on a black-board placed opposite the Royal stand. When His Majesty left, as also when he arrived, there were deafening cheers from the huge gathering, spontaneously accorded, marking the feeling of the people on the first anniversary of Siam's entry into the War and signifying the people's welcome to His Majesty on his first public appearance after a long absence from the Capital.

The following is a list of officials of the Meet, who are to be heartily congratulated on making the event the success it was.

Royal Proclamation.

On the Anniversary of Siam's Declaration of War Against Germany and Austria-Hungary.

(TRANSLATION.)

To My Subjects.

On the 22nd of July in the 2460th year of our Lord the Buddha I declared war against Germany and Austria-Hungary, who have violated in a most barbarous manner every principle of right and justice between nations. This step was taken because the Siamese, being a nation which believes in the Holy Buddhist Religion, hold right to be above everything else, and the declaration of war thus met with the wishes of all Siamese. Not only that, but this participation in the war on the side of the Great Allies will also tend to ensure and strengthen the independence of the Kingdom of Siam, inasmuch as those Allied Powers have already declared that their object in carrying on this war is to uphold the independence of small nations and to maintain good relations between all nations, whether weak or strong, in order that each may be able to pursue its own path of progress and the weak may be free from all oppression on the part of the strong. This declaration meets with the most ardent wishes of the Siamese nation.

One year has now elapsed since Siam has entered into the war, and I am filled with the greatest pleasure in having observed the way in which everything has happened in accordance with My expectations, namely: the spirit of unity shown by all Siamese in their loyalty to My Person and in the patriotic love of their country; the manner in which every one has striven to maintain mutual friendship and preserve peace and tranquillity; the manner in which every one has come forward to assist My Government and the nation in various ways, such as offering their lives by volunteering to go out to fight together with the Allies in Europe, giving money to help in carrying on the war, and subscribing to the funds of the Red Cross Society of Siam, which is engaged in the work of succouring the sick and saving the nation from disease and untimely death. On the other hand the Allied Nations have also shown Siam much honour and have rendered every help and afforded every facility to the Siamese Government in the most cordial and friendly manner.

In view of such a satisfactory state of things, I desire on this auspicious occasion of the anniversary of Siam's participation in the war, to remind every loyal subject of the Kingdom that the Great War still continues with all vehemence, that the enemy is still making the greatest efforts to defeat the gallant armies of our Allies, that our own brave Siamese troops have already hastened to their help; and that therefore it behoves all Siamese who are remaining behind to do everything in their power to assist in the prosecution of the war.

Every one who is serving in the Forces of the State should devote himself most diligently and strictly to the performance of his duties. Those who have the good fortune to go out and fight in the war should strive to make the name of the Siamese nation known to the world as a nation of warriors, and those who have not such opportunity should endeavour to preserve peace and tranquillity within the country and train themselves so as to be fit to fight whenever they may be called upon to do so.

All persons in the Civil Service should endeavour to carry out their duties so as to produce the best results. They should endeavour to maintain peace and promote the welfare of the people, so that they may be able to pursue their livelihood with every facility and free from all trouble. Thus will prosperity be vouchsafed to the Siamese Motherland.

I ask all patriotic citizens to devote themselves to the honest pursuit of their livelihood and help to add to the wealth of the nation and of themselves. Together with those in the Government service, I ask all of you to use every effort to assist in the war by preserving peace and tranquillity within the country by cultivating mutual friendship in order to show to the world that the Siamese nation is firmly united. I ask you also to send gifts to the Ministry of Finance to help in the prosecution of the war, to the Royal Navy League to help in procuring as soon as possible warships for the protection of the Siamese territorial waters and to the Red Cross Society of Siam to help in the work of succouring wounded soldiers and combating sickness among the people.

Every Siamese should endeavour to do what has already been mentioned until victory shall be gained by the Great Allies, that is to say also by our own Siamese nation. When that victory is achieved, it is certain that both honour and prosperity will accrue to our country and the independence of our beloved Siamese Nation will be firmly established for all time.

On the 22nd of this month I shall proceed to the Royal Temple to pay reverence to the Holy Image of the Emerald Buddha. Afterward I shall proceed to the Pantheon, where after paying reverence to the Royal Statues of My Five August Predecessors, in company with all the Princes of the Royal House and Officers of State, I shall offer up an intercessional prayer invoking the Holy Trinity and the Virtues of my August Ancestors to vouchsafe Siam and glorious victory to all the nations which have joined in the Great Alliance, in order that peace may again return to the world together with the stability and prosperity of all these nations and the Kingdom of Siam.

I enjoin that on the same day all my subjects should also, like myself, pray to the Holy Trinity and the spirit of their ancestors to vouchsafe the blessings already mentioned.

(M. R.) RAMA R.

Royal Decree

Instituting the Honourable Order of Rama.

(TRANSLATION.)

On the 6th day of April in the year of the Lord Buddha 2461 at the Royal Shrine Phra Deh Bidara, on the occasion of the grand ceremony of the installation of the Royal Statues of His Majesty's five August Predecessors of the Royal Chakri Dynasty, where all the Princes of the Royal House and Officers of State, Military, Naval and Civil, were assembled to pay homage to the throne, His Most Gracious Majesty Phra Bat Somdet Phra Rama Dhiphapi Sri Suddha Maha Vajiravudh Phra Mongkut Klao was graciously pleased to decree as follows:

WHEREAS the Military and Naval Services of the State are of special character, inasmuch as the persons serving therein are required to devote their physical strength and intelligence in an exceptional degree in the performance of their duties and have also to be always ready to sacrifice their lives in defence of the independence and prosperity of the Nation and Country;

AND WHEREAS it is proper that there should be a special Order of Chivalry for rewarding those who deserve well for the State in this respect;

THEREFORE a new Order of Chivalry shall be instituted and a law relating thereto be enacted as follows:

CHAPTER I.

Title, Classification and Description.

Section 1.—This Order of Chivalry shall be called the Honourable Order of Rama.

Section 2.—It shall consist of four classes, namely, First, Second, Third and Fourth, and also of Medals of the Order.

Section 3.—The insignia of the First Class of the Honourable Order of Rama shall consist of a star, made of gold, oval in shape, with four points, and having on the obverse, in the centre, on a violet enamelled ground, the picture of Rama vanquishing King Kartavirya, and on the reverse, on a white enamelled ground with dark blue edge, and surmounted by the Royal Crown, the Royal cypher "R.R." with the figure "5" between the letters, denoting His Majesty King Rama V, and having radiating therefrom eight large silver rays intersected by eight small gold rays. This star is to be worn on the left breast. There shall also be a sash 10 centimetres in width, made of black silk with a red strip 2 centimetres in width near the edge on both sides, and a badge for being appended thereto, of similar design as the star already described, but without the silver and gold rays. This sash is to be worn across the right shoulder.

Section 4.—The insignia of the Second Class of the Honourable Order of Rama shall consist of a star similar to the one described in section 3, to be worn on the right breast, and also a badge similar to the one mentioned in section 3, to be suspended on a silk ribbon to be worn round the neck. This ribbon shall be 45 millimetres in width and of the same colour as the sash already described in section 3.

Section 5.—The insignia of the Third Class of the Honourable Order of Rama shall consist of a badge suspended on a silk ribbon, to be worn round the neck, as mentioned in Section 4.

Section 6.—The insignia of the Fourth Class of the Honourable Order of Rama shall consist of a badge similar to that described in Section 3, to be worn on the left breast suspended on a silk ribbon 32 millimetres in width.

Section 7.—There shall also be two Medals of this Order, namely: The "Rama Medal," made of silver, oval in shape, having on the obverse the picture of Rama vanquishing King Kartavirya and on the reverse the Royal Cypher "R.R." with the figure "6" between the letters and surmounted by the Royal Crown. This Medal is to be worn on the left breast suspended on a silk ribbon 32 millimetres in width.

The "Rama Medal for gallantry in action," of the same description in every particular as the "Rama Medal," but having a clasp symbolical of the ribbon to distinguish it from the "Rama Medal." The designs of all the stars, medals, sash and ribbon already mentioned shall be kept at the Ministry of the Privy Seal, and it is strictly forbidden for any person on whom any Decoration of this Order has been conferred by His Majesty to wear such Decoration which is different in design from that prescribed.

Section 8.—It shall be the duty of the Ministry of the Privy Seal to have made and keep a sufficient number of all the stars, medals, sash, and ribbons of this Order, so that no difficulty may be experienced whenever it should please His Majesty to confer the Order on any person.

CHAPTER II.

Council of the Order.

Section 10.—There shall be a Council of the following members:

• A Grand Master

• A Secretary, and

• Five Councillors.

Section 11.—The Grand Master, Secretary and Councillors of this Order will be appointed by His Majesty, in the first instance, from among persons in whom His Majesty reposes trust and whom he deems worthy to fill such positions; but in future, when there shall be a sufficient number of recipients of this Order, His Majesty will make these appointments only from among such recipients.

Section 12.—The Council shall have the following privileges and duties:

(a) To receive a report from any competent authority recommending any person as being worthy of the honour of having The Honourable Order of Rama conferred on him by His Majesty, and to hold a meeting of the Council, in accordance with the rules mentioned in Chapter IV, to consider and determine whether such person is properly entitled to receive the Order or not.

(b) The Grand Master, the Secretary of any other member of the Council shall have the privilege, on his own initiative, to recommend any person as being worthy of the honour of having the Honourable Order of Rama conferred on him by His Majesty. Such recommendation shall be submitted to the Grand Master, in order that a meeting of the Council may be convened to consider the same in accordance with the rules.

(c) The Council shall prepare and keep a register of all persons on whom this Order has been conferred by His Majesty.

(d) The Grand Master shall have the privilege of reporting direct to His Majesty on every matter in connection with this Order.

Section 13.—The meetings of the Council shall be convened by the Grand Master, who will also preside at the same. Four members of the Council, including the Grand Master and Secretary, present at any such meeting shall be deemed to form a quorum. In the event of the Grand Master being unable to be present at any meeting of the Council, the senior among those present shall preside over the same in his stead. Should there be a difference of opinion on any matter under consideration at the meeting, the opinion of the majority shall prevail; but should such difference of opinion be equal on both sides, the chairman of the meeting shall have the casting vote.

CHAPTER III.

Nature of services deemed worthy of being rewarded with The Honourable Order of Rama.

Section 14.—The First Class of The Honourable Order of Rama will be conferred by His Majesty only on persons who have rendered the most distinguished military services, either in war or in peace, and may be conferred on His Majesty's own initiative, after the matter has been referred by Him to the Council of the Order for consideration, or on the recommendation of that Council, after the matter has been duly considered by them.

With exception of the above mentioned, no one else shall have the right to recommend any person for the grant of the first class of The Honourable Order of Rama.

Section 15.—In time of war: (a) Any person who has fought bravely and gallantly in a manner deserving of admiration in company with, and at the same time as, others in the same position as himself shall be deemed worthy to receive the "Rama Medal."

(b) Any person who has displayed the greatest personal gallantry and risked his life in carrying out his duty, or more than what his duty required of him, in order to show before the eyes of the world the power and prowess of a Siamese warrior, shall be deemed worthy to receive the "Rama Medal for gallantry in action."

(c) Any person who, individually and different from others fighting at the same time, has fought bravely and gallantly in a manner deserving of admiration, or who is in command of a military unit, from a small detachment up to a company, which has fought with conspicuous success, or who, being in command of one or more small war vessels, such as submarine, torpedo boat or dispatch boat, has carried out any operation of war with conspicuous success, shall be deemed worthy to receive the Fourth Class of the Honourable Order of Rama.

(d) Any person in command of a military unit larger than a Company and up to a Brigade (of one arm or mixed), which has fought with conspicuous success, or in command of a detachment of warships smaller than a naval squadron, or of a Naval Division, which has carried out any operation of war with conspicuous success, shall be deemed worthy to receive the Third Class of the Honourable Order of Rama.

(e) Any person in command of a military unit larger than a Brigade, which has fought with conspicuous success, or in command of a unit of warships larger than a naval squadron, which has carried out any operation of war with conspicuous success, shall be deemed worthy to receive the Second Class of The Honourable Order of Rama.

(f) Any person, not having any opportunity to go out to fight on the field of battle or to command any vessel taking part in the war, who has otherwise rendered valuable service in connection with the conduct of the war shall be deemed worthy to receive The Honourable Order of Rama of such class, commensurate with his merits, as shall be determined by the Council of the Order in accordance with the report submitted to them on this matter.

Section 16.—In time of peace, any person in command of any military unit mentioned in Section 15, or in command of any war vessel or squadron of warships, engaged in manoeuvres, corresponding to any naval unit mentioned in Section 15, who has shown by the able manner in which he carried out his duties that he would be able to lead troops or warships and achieve good results in time of war, shall be deemed worthy to receive The Honourable Order of Rama of such class and in the same manner as prescribed in Section 15. This however does not refer to the "Rama Medal," which will be conferred only on any person, who individually and not being in command of other persons, has, while engaged in manoeuvres, conducted himself with conspicuous and exceptional ability.

Besides the above, any person who has carried out his official duties in a manner as to be of great value in promoting the prosperity of the military and naval forces shall also be worthy to receive The Honourable Order of Rama of such class, commensurate with his merits, as shall be determined by Council of the Order.

BEAUTY.

The Ancient Greek held that Beauty was identical with the Good. The modern idea is only slightly different.

It is, that anything is beautiful because it is Good, particularly is this true of the products of Labour and Invention.

The inbuilt Beauty of Buick Cars is of this type, and it tells of a subtle way of the skill and the thoughts that have been lavished upon the Buick Cars to make them everything that the exacting motorist can desire.

Rugby Football.

Saturday's football was of a different order from that seen on the Sports Club ground the previous week, when the soft and treacherous ground and the never-ending scrums exhausted the forwards and left the backs with plenty of reserve in hand. This week it was the turn of the backs, for the ground was firm and the ball dry. Open play was the feature of the game, and provided the spectators with many fine bouts of passing and thrilling runs. It was Walton's day-out too, and he seemed to break through at will, since his opponents failed to tackle him time after time. The pace of course told in the end and the backs were spent and blown when no-time was whistled.

Blues.

The sides were:—
Full Back ... Cooper Johnston.
Three-quarters: ... MacNaught, Butler, Malcolm, Thune.
Halves: ... Jenkins, and Selley.
Forwards: ... Sutton (capt.), Grut, Kummer, McDonald, Neilson, Ramsdale and King.

Whites.

Full Back ... Reith.
Three quarters ... Chapman, Robertson, Keynes and Walsh.
Halves ... Cranmer and Walton (Capt.).
Forwards: ... Owen, Schneider, Rasmussen, Wynn, Dalsgaard, Fogtmann, Suen-Hansen.
Referee ... Mr. H. Price.
Touch judges Messrs Ritchie and Newlands.

On paper Blues backs looked stronger, and as they won the toss and elected to use the strong wind, they should have made victory sure in the first half. Play opened slowly but improved as time went on. The first good run was by—Butler who smartly intercepted an opponent's forward pass, and scored, beneath the posts. Unfortunately the Referee had blown his whistle for the forward pass and reluctantly brought the ball back to midfield for a scrum. This was distinctly hard lines on Butler and his side the Blues for they needed the spur to put them in a winning vein. Whites now took up the attack and a round of passing in which all their backs took part sent Cranmer over for a good try. His kick at goal failed. Shortly afterwards Suen Hansen got the ball in the open, and made a bold bid for the line, but was tackled. The movement ended in a try however, for after several men had made ineffectual attempts to get over, Fogtmann did the trick by a clever dive over the line in regular half back style. This time Cranmer goaled, and whites led by 8 pts to nil. Whites kept up the attack to the end of the first-half. Malcolm and Butler often tried to relieve the pressure, but they kicked to straight, and sometimes wasted time by kicking too far and allowing Reith to touch down dead. Blues forwards were getting the ball often than White and usually dominated the scrums, but the ball stuck in the back row time and time again, giving Cranmer and Walton time to spoil Selley's work at the base of the scrum. In the open field and the line outs Whites forwards were superior, and Owen was conspicuous for good play, ably backed up by Fogtmann and Rasmussen.

The second half was full of incident and very fast. Just once did Blues lead clean, and after a good run Malcolm was sent over a try wide out, which Sutton converted. The game was anybody's and the excitement grew. A fine round of passing by Whites. Backs right across and down the field looked like a certain try to Walsh, but Jenkins swept across and made a glorious tackle at the corner flag. This bout of passing ended by such a fine tackle was considered the best bit of Rugby in the game. The play then veered from end to end. Sometimes Malcolm kicked, when he might have gone on and tried to break through. Other times when Walton broke through and gave to Keynes, the latter cut in instead of going on and giving to Walsh. The last named tried to get round his opponents by running across the field, but was always hemmed in. The tackling improved and one fine tackle by Robertson of Blues was good for all. Malcolm was also tackled well. Jenkins perhaps more than any one on his side. In the scrums Grut and Schneider were pushing well, and Neilson packed splendidly in the second second row. Dalsgaard had hard lines after good following up when the ball rolled dead beyond his reach. Sutton was hooking well and it seemed as if Jenkins and Co. must get over, but on one occasion Chapman intercepted and knocked forward. This was not seen by the referee and Walton broke through.

Thune followed and tackled him with a heavy fall on the line, but the try was given to Walton. Cranmer failed at goal again at a difficult angle. This proved the last score of the match and the game ended in a win for Walton's side by 11 pts. By general accord this game was voted as the best seen so far this season: the throwing out from touch and the putting the ball into the scrums were so much improved that the number of scrums was far fewer than we have been accustomed to see. The referee controlled the game well, and gave general satisfaction to all the players.

Whites deserved to win because Walton repeatedly made openings for a nipper set of three quarters who played the passing game well; and since the Blues backs failed to stop the movements in the initial stages, they found themselves outnumbered at the end of every attack made by Walton's men. Robertson was out for the first time, and played a very useful game.

There were several very amusing incidents in the game, and the mixed crowd of spectators and players left the field in great good humour, after a pleasant afternoon and a good game.

In conclusion the writer has one suggestion to make to the forwards, who break through singly, and follow up alone time after time. In the game above described, Sutton, Owen, Grut, Neilson, McDonald, Rasmussen, Dalsgaard and Fogtmann were all seen to advantage in such play, yet their efforts continually ended in failure through lack of support from their fellow players. For example, whenever Owen broke away and burst through the middle, if Fogtmann, Dalsgaard and Rasmussen had followed him up quickly and spread out on either side of him, we should have seen excellent forward play, and one or two more tries. In a similar way Blues forwards should have followed the leads given by Sutton.
